MISSION WORK SUPPORTED BY SOUTH GATE

Ben Fronczek is a missionary South Gate supports in Granville, New York. We have supported Ben and his work at various locations in upstate New York for many years. There is a tendency to only think of other countries when we think about mission work. However, there are many areas of our country where the church is almost non-existent. In many of the areas Ben and his family have worked over the years the church has been very small. Members travel long distances in many cases to attend services. Despite those difficulties Ben has joyfully worked for the Lord many years. He currently serves as an elder and as the minister at the church in Granville. The Granville congregation currently meets in an old church building owned by the Methodist. The congregation is actively seeking a building of their own. They believe this will really help grow the congregation. Ben is a tireless worker that has dedicated his life to serving the church. Please remember Ben, his family, and the Granville congregation in your prayers.

South Gate also supports Apologetics Press (AP). AP is an organization in Montgomery, Alabama that began in the late 1970's to make available more scripturally sound and scientifically accurate materials in the field of Christian apologetics. Currently, Dr. Dave Miller serves as the Executive Director. Dr. Miller, Kyle Butt, Eric Lyons, and Dr. Jeff Miller compose the fulltime professional writing staff, assisted by an auxiliary staff of scientists and other writers. The staff members at AP produce many types of materials including books, magazines, and videos defend God and his word. The staff members also are involved in many speaking engagement and debates each year. AP also has a great website which was viewed by people in 231 different countries and territories last year.
