Father's Day

Over the years As we grow old, We remember our father So brave and bold.

In the garden, Leaning on the plow, He would listen to me; I see him now.

He would give advice And understand;
He was always there To lend a hand.

God made fathers Strong and firm,
For he knew our lives Would have great concerns.

So he gave us fathers To teach us to pray,
And guide our lives, And show us the way.

So on his day Let's take the time To say "Thanks, dad. I'm glad you're mine."

I look forward to studying fatherhood in Scripture with you Sunday. See you then!

Caring For Aging Parents

I Timothy 5:4 But if a widow has children or grandchildren, these should learn first of all to put their religion into practice by caring for their own family and so repaying their parents and grandparents.

The Psalmist stated long ago, "Do not cast me away when I am old; do not forsake me when my strength is gone." Old age eventually comes to each one of us. The day will come when we realize that our strength is not what it used to be. We may even come to the point that we need help. Where will it come from? Children aren't supposed to take care of their parents. It should be the other way around. And yet the Scriptures call upon children and grandchildren to care for their own family when it is needed. This is called putting your religion into practice. This is a way to say thank you for all that had previously been done for you in your early life.

Becoming a caregiver is difficult. It will require a huge commitment of time, effort, love and money. Often the individual will find that life is exhausting. Life will no longer be normal. Guilt may be an overwhelming emotion as your own family is deprived of your time and as you want to do so much more for the aging parent. Keep in mind that as this occurs that you are showing honor to your parent. In the process selfless living is learned. Take the time to be thankful for lessons learned and the simple gift of life. Be grateful for the little joys of life. The Bible places great value on the elderly. Let's do what we can when that time comes. Let's finish with one more Scripture: "Listen to your father, who gave you life, and do not despise your mother when she is old."
