This Tuesday is election day. Just a reminder of the important issue on the ballot. YESON1 will give the legislature the right to reinstate many common sense guidelines regarding the practice of abortion in the state of TN and will return the state constitution's position back to neutral. This will protect the health and lives of women and save the lives of the unborn.

To correct my previous misunderstanding, I have learned you DO NOT have to vote in the governors race for your vote to count. You can vote only for this amendment if you so wish. I encourage you to pray about this, tell others and vote.
