Welcome to South Gate this morning. I hope that you have enjoyed time with family and friends this past week. It is such a blessing to spend time in thanksgiving with those closest to us. God is so good to us.

Consider the title for my lesson this morning. While reading Scriptures or listening to a song or a sermon do we ask the question, "Lord, is it I?" In the first chapter of Romans, Paul was condemning the Gentiles for their behavior. The Jews were in total agreement with him. In reality they needed to look deep within for they were guilty of the same things. Do not forget that God will judge each one of us for our own actions and he will not overlook our sins because we think we are better than others. This message is found in the second chapter of Romans.
