Share the Good News

The world is full of bad news. There is bad news on the TV, bad news in the newspaper, bad news on the radio and on the internet. This world is surrounded by messages of bad news, but we have a different message. We have the gospel! We have good news! Lets make sure to share it every chance we get. When we become Christians we share in blessings in our lives that others are not aware of and they need to hear about those as well. My question is are you sharing good news with those around you? Do you talk about, post, and purposefully share good news about the Christian life. If you haven't shared any lately decide now to share some good news. Here is a blessing I reflected on this morning and shared on Facebook about the good news in my life because of South Gate. We have what others desperately need, so let's share the good news!

"As I consider dropping my oldest off at FHU this Saturday, I reflect on the blessings that give me confidence in his walk with the Lord for which I am forever grateful. The Youth program at South Gate has been one of the greatest blessings in raising my four boys. Our youth for Christ program has trained my boys to lead. The Bible bowl has given them the opportunity to give themselves to the study of God's word. Jody Pritchett's leadership of our youth program has made such a difference in their lives, and I am excited to watch Ben McGreevy continue the program's powerful growth. Life is uncertain, but our God is faithful, and I am so thankful for a church home that helps place my children's hands into His."

Given A Trust

I Corinthians 4:2

Now it is required that those who have been given a trust must prove faithful.

Paul did not want to be considered special. Even today we have a high opinion of him and surely they did in the first century. He wanted everyone to simply think of him as a servant of God. The same should be thought of the other first century preacher as well as those preaching today. Paul was serving the Master. Paul declared that he had been entrusted with the secret things. As an apostle of Jesus Christ, he had been revealed the truth. He had God's Spirit which guided him into all truth. Teaching what he had learned in city after city and to person after person he convert men and women to Christianity.

Paul was entrusted with the gospel. Anyone who is given a trust must prove faithful. With great pains, Paul wanted the share the gospel as given to him – nothing more and nothing less. He told the church at Galatia that he had presented the gospel and that if he came back with anything different then they were not to listen to him. The truth would not change. We have been given the good news as well. Are we proving faithful? Are we faithful in living the Christian life? Are we faithful in spreading the message of the gospel? Are we faithful to the doctrine presented in the Scriptures? God's people must be faithful servants.
